Biographical/Historical Information

The Dept. of Conservation and Recreation is an outgrowth of the Dept. of Conservation and Economic Development, which became known as the Dept. of Conservation and Historic Resources on 1 January 1985. It was later renamed the Dept. of Conservation and Recreation on 1 July 1989 when the Division of Historic Landmarks split off and became its own agency.

Scope and Content

Includes correspondence and subject files documenting actions, planning, functions, implementation of agency programs, and the establishment of policies and procedures for the agency, as well as achievements of the Dept. of Conservation and Recreation and its predecessor agencies. Contains correspondence, news clippings, programs, financial records, memoranda, news releases, newsletters, agendas, minutes, legislative files, reference files, reports, and environmental impact statements.

Includes information on administration, coal mining, fishing, forestry, historic sites, litter control, mined land reclamation and state parks.
