Access Restrictions

Privacy protected and other protected information is considered confidential and restricted from public access for 75 years. It may be necessary for an archivist to review any unprocessed, modern record collections (those collections less than 75 years old) that may contain confidential information before the records can be used by patrons for research purposes or before any copies of records can be made for patrons. If you are planning to use these records, please contact Archives Reference Services for more details before planning your research trip.

Acquisition Information

Accession 51735 was transferred by the Dept. of Agriculture and Consumer Services on 2/24/2016

Processing Information

This collection has been processed using minimal processing standards: the original arrangement has been maintained, the container list is brief and simple, and the records have not been refoldered and fasteners have not been removed.

Virginia Dept. of Agriculture and Consumer Services, Records of the Virginia Agricultural Council, [cite specific dates and accession used]. State government records collection, The Library of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

Arrangement

Arranged by type of record and chronologically or alphabetically thereunder.

Historical Information

The Virginia Agricultural Council was established by the General Assembly to provide a mechanism for financing agricultural research, education and services. Funding comes from assessments levied on certain agricultural supplies used by farmers. The council is also authorized to accept gifts and grants. The council accepts requests for financial assistance from any organized group within, or serving, Virginia's agriculture industry. This includes suppliers, farmers, marketers, extension centers, colleges and universities. The Virginia Agricultural Council is directed by 18 members, 15 of whom are engaged in farming and all appointed by the Governor. The ex-officio members include the Commissioner of Agriculture and Consumer Services, the Dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Virginia Tech and the Associate Vice President for Agriculture and Extension at Virginia State University. Council members meet at least twice each year.

Scope and Content

The records of the Virginia Agricultural Council, 1988-2015, include: Board minutes, 1996-2012; Board correspondence and subject files, 1996-2011; Annual reports, 1988, 1990-2015.
