Use Restrictions

The copyright interests in this collection have been transferred to the James Madison University Special Collection Library. For more information, contact the Special Collections Library Reference Desk (library-special@jmu.edu).

Acquisition Information

This collection was created in 1983 from miscellaneous items housed in library storage when Special Collections was first developed and initiated in 1982.

Processing Information

In 1983, the items were boxed together as a collection and moved to Special Collections. In 1994, the collection was re-boxed and reorganized to be consistent with the standards developed for manuscript collections. In July 2008, the preservationist removed images from frames to prevent further acidic damage. Frames were retained and moved to storage until April 2023 when they were discarded. A photograph found behind the previously framed Montpelier photo was removed and added to Folder Six, Photographs Donated by Corrie B. Macon Hill. In October 2010, the finding aid was updated into a new formatting template and some folder names were changed for greater clarity of contents and organization. The collection itself was not reorganized. In August 2011, two albumen prints were discovered in a storage room in Carrier Library along with a gift acknowledgement letter dated 21 May 1970 from President G. Tyler Miller to Mrs. R. Harris Kesler indicating that the pictures would be added to the Madison Memorial Library's Madison Collection.

In order to streamline the process of applying collection numbers, Special Collections staff completed a large-scale renumbering campaign in the spring of 2017. This collection was previously cataloged as SC 2099.

Scope and Content

James Madison Memorabilia, 1796-1951, contains correspondence, official documents, engravings, photographs, and artifacts related to James Madison, the Madison family, and descendents. It is arranged topically into five series and described at the item level.

Series 1, Miscellaneous Materials, 1795, 1938, 1951, consists of a letter written by J. Madison Sr., genealogical papers, and stamps bearing James Madison's likeness.

Series 2, Illustrative Materials, undated, consists of a postcard, photographs, and portrait reproductions of James and Dolley Madison, descendents, and Montpelier. Two nineteenth century albumen prints of paintings by P. Polk in Philadelphia in 1777, of James Madison's parents: Col. James Madison Sr. and Nelly Rose Conway.

Series 3, Documents Signed by James Madison, 1801-1815, includes several letters of commission signed by Madison, a check written by Madison, a letter of patent signed by Madison and Jefferson, and a document signed by James Madison and James Monroe.

Series 4, Newspaper Items, 1812-1821, is composed of two articles related to James Madison from 1812 and 1836.

Series 5, Artifacts, 1809, undated, includes several three-dimensional items related to James Madison, his family, and descendents.

Separated material:

In 2008, frames were removed from photographs and engravings and moved to storage.

Provenance

Many of the items in this collection were donated to James Madison University, then called Madison College, in the 1930s and 1940s from a variety of sources. An undated, unsigned typescript inventory was found in storage with the items in 1982. This inventory, currently stored in the collection's control file, gives provenance information for some items, while handwritten tags accompanying some items and further research provided provenance for others. Provenance for individual items is given, when known, in the "Contents" list.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged topically into five series:

- Miscellaneous Materials, 1796, 1938, 1951
- Illustrative Materials, undated
- Documents Signed by Madison, 1801-1815
- Newspaper Items, 1812-1821
- Artifacts, 1809, undated

A rare, silver medal presented by James Madison, in 1809, to an unknown Native American chief for his efforts towards peace. The medal was donated to Madison College by the Cotillion Club on May 4, 1938. The Cotillion Club acquired the medal from the previous owner, Charles H. Fisher, of Cleveland, OH, who in turn obtained the medal in Buffalo, NY from an unknown source.

Presidential Medal

Unit Date undated

Scope and Content

A bronze presidential medal, of unknown provenance, bearing an image of a bust of James Madison.

Pocket Knife

Unit Date undated

Scope and Content

A pearl-handled pocket knife said to have belonged to James Madison was gifted on December 8, 1939 by the Madison College Granddaughters Club, who purchased it from S.P. Hill, a descendent of Madison. The knife originally had 14 blades, most of which are broken or missing. An "M" has been scratched into each side of the handle.

Lancet

Unit Date undated

Scope and Content

Belonged to the Madison family and was obtained for the school through descendents of Madison.

Scales

Unit Date undated

Scope and Content

Scales date to the period after James Madison's death, but are believed to be connected with the Madison family. Provenance unknown.

Pistol

Unit Date undated

Scope and Content

Said to have belonged to James Madison. Research indicates that the pistol is actually an 1863 Remington New Model Army .44. It may have belonged to descendents of Madison during this period. It was originally loaned to the school by Robert E. Mattox, date unknown, who reported that his great-great grandfather received the pistol as a gift from the Madison family.

Saltcellar

Unit Date undated

Scope and Content

Believed to have belonged to Dolley Madison, the saltcellar is made of glass and roughly 5" high. Saltcellar was donated by Mrs. Rose MacDonald Skoggs, who obtained it from Corrie B. Macon Hill.
