Administrative Information

Access to Materials

Collection is open for research; access requires at least 48 hours advance notice. Because of the nature of certain archival formats, including digital and audio-visual materials, access will require additional advanced notice. Copies of digital files will be provided for use upon request.

Use of These Materials

The nature of the Hampden-Sydney College Archives and Special Collections means that copyright or other information about restrictions may be difficult or even impossible to determine despite reasonable efforts. As a result, Hampden-Sydney College claims only physical ownership of most Special Collections materials. The materials from our collections are made available for use in research, teaching, and private study, pursuant to U.S. Copyright law. The user must assume full responsibility for any use of the materials, including but not limited to, infringement of copyright and publication rights of reproduced materials. Any materials used for academic research or otherwise should be fully credited with the source. This collection may contain materials with sensitive or confidential information that is protected under federal or state right to privacy laws and regulations. Researchers are advised that the disclosure of certain information pertaining to identifiable living individuals represented in this collection without the consent of those individuals may have legal ramifications (e.g. cause of action under common law for invasion of privacy may arise if facts concerning an individual's private life are published that would be deemed highly offensive to a reasonable person) for which the College assumes no responsibility.

Biographical / Historical

Josiah Bunting III was born in 1939 at Haverford, Pennsylvania. He entered the U.S. Marine Corps and later went to the Virginia Military Institute and graduated third in his class as an English major and attended the University of Oxford where he received an M.A. He entered the United States Army in 1966 and reached the rank of Major after six years of service. He was stationed at Fort Bragg, Vietnam, and finally West Point where he was an assistant professor of history and social sciences. Bunting is an avid writer and wrote a novel titled The Lionheads in 1972 which was a writing based on his own personal accounts put into a fictional setting of characters. Bunting left West Point in the same year and served as a faculty member of the Naval War College between 1973-1974. He later served shortly as president of Briarcliff College and of Hampden-Sydney College between 1977-1987. At Hampden-Sydney, Bunting updated the Rhetoric Program and Western Civilization program of the college. He also nearly tripled the college's endowment through the Campaign for Hampden-Sydney. After his departure, he served as the headmaster of the Lawrenceville School from 1987 to 1995, Superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute from 1995 to 2003. After his departure he has been involved with many organizations including his current position as Chairman of the Friends of the National World War II Memorial which he was appointed to in 2015.

Scope and Contents

The Josiah Bunting III Papers document Bunting's tenure as president of Hampden-Sydney College from 1977-1987 along with some documents relating to his tenure at Lawrenceville School and later at the Virginia Military Institute. Primarily dating between 1977-1987, the collection includes copies of public addresses, publications, correspondence, photos, newspaper clippings, items relating to the presidential search in 1976, and items relating to his departure and his work after departure.
