Scope and Contents

The notes in this collection are organized chronologically by course. The collection centers on the college notes taken by Ethney Allyn Selden (Headlee) during her time as a student at Westhampton College, part of the University of Richmond, during the early 1920s.

The first section contains notes from her Spring 1921 Biology course taught by Paul R. Merriman, Associate Professor of Biology. The notes are richly illustrated with drawings by Seldon as well as her notes for study.
