Administrative Information

Conditions Governing Access

Content with student grades located in boxes 1 (folders 1-2, 10, 12, 15-24), 7, 21 (folders 1-2), and 23 must be closed for 75 years after the date of record creation. If interested in viewing restricted student records, please contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center at <https://westvirginia.libanswers.com/wvrhc> in advance. The reference department will need to assess these materials and protect sensitive content prior to granting access to researchers.

Content including social security numbers located in boxes 1 (folders 1-6, 9) and 21 (career materials subseries) will be restricted for 75 years after the date of record creation, but researchers may complete the Agreement for the Use of Sensitive Materials to request access to these materials prior to the expiration of the restriction. Please contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center reference department in advance to request access.

Content including personnel files, like faculty evaluations and position appointments, located in box 21 (career materials subseries and folders 1-2) and box 26 (folder 4) must be closed for 75 years after the date of record creation. If interested in viewing personnel files, please contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center in advance. The reference department will need to assess these materials and protect sensitive content prior to granting access to researchers.

Researchers may access born digital materials by requesting to view them in person by appointment or remotely by contacting the West Virginia & Regional History Center reference department. Some of these materials are not yet reformatted and must be requested in advance.

Audiovisual materials must be digitized for research access. Researchers must contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center reference department in advance.

All or part of this collection is stored offsite. Please make an appointment prior to visiting.

Preferred Citation

[Description and date of item], [Box/folder number], Ronald Lewis, Historian, Papers, A&M 3882, West Virginia and Regional History Center, West Virginia University Libraries, Morgantown, West Virginia.

Biographical / Historical

A professor emeritus of history at West Virginia University, Lewis received his PhD in American History from the University of Akron in 1974. He focused on regional studies, especially Appalachian history. His first teaching opportunity was at the University of Delaware as an assistant professor from 1974 to 1985, where he focused primarily on the intersection of race and labor in the United States. He was then hired in 1985 to teach West Virginian and Appalachian History at West Virginia University. He earned emeritus status in 2008. He has authored many books, earned several awards, and was a Fulbright-Hayes Commission Award Recipient.

Scope and Contents

This collection contains materials of various formats used and created by historian Dr. Ronald Lewis throughout his career. There are records and course materials from classes taught by Dr. Lewis at the University of Delaware and, primarily, at West Virginia University (WVU). It includes other documents relating to his work as a faculty advisor to graduate students in WVU's history department. There is extensive documentation of his research, most of which was done on Appalachian history and West Virginia coal mining, including articles he has written, facsimiles of primary and secondary sources used in his research, and A/V materials like oral histories. Records generated from Dr. Lewis's scholarly activities are included, such as book and article reviews and conference presentations. There are also materials relating to his other professional pursuits, such as his membership in historical organizations and correspondence with other professionals in the field. This collection provides a broad overview of the work of an historian in an academic institution.

The dates provided are reflective of material creation, except within the Welsh Miners and Scott's Run subseries. These dates, listed in folder titles, reflect the content and were determined by the donor when he created and titled these files. Please be aware that the dates may not be accurate for every item within the folder/box but rather reflect the general timeframe of the subject matter.

Born digital and audiovisual materials exist within the collection as floppy disks, CDs, DVDs, VHS tapes, and cassettes.

Addendum of 2024 May 29 includes similar materials but reflects Dr. Lewis's more recent work. There are materials relating to his work as a professor and faculty member, the development of two books and other publications, and documentation of his career. Common formats include lecture notes, facsimiles of research sources, and correspondence; digital materials exist within the addendum as floppy disks, zip disks, and CDs.

Separated Materials

A group of bound dissertations has been separated at the donor's request. They were written from 1990-2009 and focus on West Virginia-related historical subjects. Dr. Lewis served on the dissertation committee for each. These items were passed on, to be made available in the WVRHC main stacks.

Arrangement

The original order established by Dr. Lewis has been retained in much of the collection. Series and subseries have only been imposed where they accurately categorize the initial physical arrangement, allowing for the majority of Lewis's organization to remain intact. The imposed series — 1. Teaching, 2. Research and Scholarly Activity, and 3. Professional Service and Additional Career Materials — were chosen to represent the three main facets of university faculty work. Series 4 is comprised of an addendum received in 2024, and subseries have been imposed based on the existing series structure.

Many of the folder titles within this collection, including in the addendum, were created by Dr. Lewis and incorporated as-is during archival arrangement. He frequently utilized abbreviations and acronyms, especially in reference to academic institutions and professional organizations.

This collection includes a formerly separate WVRHC collection (A&M 3634, Ronald Lewis, Historian, Research Notes Regarding Timber Industry in West Virginia). It has been added to this collection in its entirety at the donor's request, so that his body of work can be represented together.

Scope and Contents

Graduate Student Files include academic papers, presentations, correspondence, job recommendations, and other materials that Dr. Lewis authored or reviewed as a faculty advisor to graduate students at West Virginia University. Digital materials from this subseries include recommendations, comprehensive exams, and graduate committee details.

Arrangement

Materials within this subseries were left in the original arrangement developed by Dr. Lewis. Individual folders represent specific students, and the materials he wrote or reviewed on behalf of those students are within their folders.

Conditions Governing Access

Box 7 contains student records. Content with student grades must be closed for 75 years after the date of record creation. If interested in viewing restricted student records, please contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center at <https://westvirginia.libanswers.com/wvrhc> in advance. The reference department will need to assess these materials and protect sensitive content prior to granting access to researchers.

Researchers may access related digital materials by requesting to view them in person by appointment or remotely by contacting the West Virginia & Regional History Center reference department.

Audiovisual materials must be digitized for research access. Researchers must contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center reference department in advance.

Scope and Contents

This subseries consists of Dr. Lewis's work on Scott's Run, a mining community in West Virginia that experienced a large coal boom in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. It includes copies of scholarly publications on Scott's Run, commemorative articles, newspaper clippings, facsimiles of primary source materials, course assignments from Dr. Lewis's classes on mining communities, and oral history interviews. Many of the oral histories are in A/V format, recorded on cassette and VHS tapes. Digital materials include interview transcriptions, researched data about Scott's Run, and more. The dates for this subseries reflect the content – not material creation. For most files, the content dates were determined by the donor and written beside his folder titles. Please be aware that the dates may not be accurate for every item within a folder but rather reflect the general timeframe of the subject matter.

Scope and Contents

These are research materials utilized and created by Dr. Lewis in his study of Welsh immigrants working in the U.S. mining industry and the broader history of British Isles emigration in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Scholarly articles, Dr. Lewis's notes, and copies of primary source documents like census data and mining reports are included in this subseries. Some additional research files exist as digital materials. The dates for this subseries reflect the content– not material creation. For most files, the content dates were determined by the donor and written beside his folder titles. Please be aware that the dates may not be accurate for every item within a folder but rather reflect the general timeframe of the subject matter.

West Virginia Timber Industry

Unit ID Archival Resource Key

Unit ID /repositories/2/archival_objects/223965

Unit Date 1994-1995

Scope and Contents

This subseries consists of research notes compiled by Dr. Lewis for the development of his 2017 book, The Industrialist and the Mountaineer: The Eastham-Thompson Feud and the Struggle for West Virginia's Timber Frontier. It includes biographical information and statistical profiles about industry leaders and corporations in the 19th and 20th centuries. These materials were previously a separate collection - A&M 3634, Ronald Lewis, Historian, Research Notes Regarding Timber Industry in West Virginia - but have since been incorporated as a part of A&M 3882 at the donor's request.

Unit Date 1970-2012

Conditions Governing Access

This series contains restricted materials: Dr. Lewis's social security number and WVU personnel files. Content with SSNs will be restricted for 75 years after the date of record creation (or until the passing of Dr. Lewis), but users may complete the Agreement for the Use of Sensitive Materials to request access to these materials prior to the expiration of the restriction. Please contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center at <https://westvirginia.libanswers.com/wvrhc> in advance to request access.

Content including personnel files, like faculty evaluations and position appointments, must be closed for 75 years after the date of record creation. If interested in viewing personnel files, please contact the West Virginia & Regional History Center in advance. The reference department will need to assess these materials and protect sensitive content prior to granting access to researchers.

Researchers may access related digital materials by requesting to view them in person by appointment or remotely by contacting the West Virginia & Regional History Center reference department.

Scope and Contents

This series represents Dr. Lewis's service to his profession, membership in professional historical organizations, his personal records of career accomplishments and his various positions held across institutions, and the correspondence he retained over the duration of his career. Additional professional service and career records are located in Series 4, box 26, folder 4.

Scope and Contents

This series is an addendum received from Dr. Lewis in 2024. It includes assorted teaching materials from Dr. Lewis's time as a professor at West Virginia University, like course syllabi and assigned reading materials. There are also research files and similar materials related to the development of Lewis's various scholarly publications, including two books: The Industrialist and the Mountaineer: The Eastham-Thompson Feud and the Struggle for West Virginia's Timber Frontier (2016) and Iron Artisans: Welsh Immigrants and the American Age of Steel (2023). Materials compiled in the development of these texts include photocopied primary sources with accompanying research notes, correspondence with publishers and other scholars, and drafts of passages from the books. There are also a few files related to Lewis's career broadly, like his curriculum vitae and faculty evaluations. Born digital materials exist within the series as floppy disks, zip disks and CDs with files related to Lewis's work as a faculty member at WVU, the development of his scholarly publications, and his career documentation. The dates for the Teaching and Research and Scholarly Activities subseries reflect the content – not material creation. Please be aware that the dates may not be accurate for every item within a folder/box but rather reflect the general timeframe of the subject matter.
